FOR PRESIDENT,
That uncrowned King of every Democratic heart,

SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
Mr. Tilden's companion in Victory and in Humiliation,

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Richard Reid, of Mt. Sterling, is a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals, to succeed Judge Hargis—subject to the action of the Democracy of the First Appellate District.

CHINAMEN are marrying young Irish girls in Frisco.

MAYSVILLE wants a new town clock, with an illuminated dial.

A COURT-HOUSE to cost $10,000 is to be put up at Falmouth, Ky.

NOVELTY in bonnets—false bangs, false teeth, enamel paint, a glass eye, and a patch of court plaster.

THE earnings of the Big Four and Kentucky Central for October show an increase over the same month last year.

BEECHER says some of the choicest spirits of the world are among the obscure, the unheralded, those without prospect of it.

COL. SWOPE, the collector of Internal Revenue in this district is for Arthur and Lincoln, for President and Vice President.

On the 28th of this month New Yorkers will celebrate the centennial of the evacuation of the city by the British troops.

W. F. CODY (Buffalo Bill) mourns the loss of his eleven-year-old daughter, Orra Maud, who died in North Platte, Nebraska, October 24th.

SENATOR LOGAN has written a play. Let him now join Buffalo Bill, and then there will be a trio of a kind, and a good pair to draw to.

HENRY WARD BEECHER says a constitutional clause might as well be tried for the prohibition of total depravity, as the suppression of intemperance.

THE Treasurer of Carroll County, Ark., kept the public funds in an old shoe. Last week burglars cracked this primitive safe and carried away $7,000 of the people's money.

A NEW YORK compositor recently hanged himself with a towel. He had waited patiently three years for a fresh one to come into the office pliable enough to form a knot.

At Lincoln, Ills., Carpenter has been held to answer for the murder of Zora Burns and his bail is fixed at $10,000. The bond was signed by a party of ten, who represent $700,000 or $800,000.

THE cheapest and best gymnasium consists of a piece of notched steel tightly fastened in a wooden frame. It exercises every muscle of the body when rubbed through a stick of wood placed on a saw-buck.

In Cincinnati, they are about to have trouble in music circles. If Mapleson enjoin Abbey, and Abbey enjoin Mapleson, the Society for the Suppression of Music will issue a Thanksgiving proclamation.

SAMUEL J. TILDEN sent a private circular through an Aldermanic district requesting Democrats to vote for one John O'Neill for Alderman, and his friend was elected. Thus it may be seen that there's life and influence in the old man yet.

"A PERSON accused of trespass in the night shall be judged guilty, unless he clear himself by his oath."—Blue Law.

Clearing one's self "by his oath" would be just as good a thing as could be asked for in these days of wickedness.

It will be a source of gratification to the many friends and admirers of Col. Frank James to learn that one of the cases against him has been nollied and another continued. There are still other cases, however, against this deeply persecuted citizen, and he has just been transferred to the Kansas City jail, to await trial.

THE News of the Kentucky Military Institute is making the following vigorous kick: "Life in College is limited to four or six years at most, at least for the great majority of young men (and young women too); and to continue the whole system of education and degrees on the basis of the classics only, simply for the sake of the few who may be profited by such a course, is certainly an old idea and must go."

THE Lexington gamblers are packing their grips and striking for taller timber, in consequence of having been disappointed in Governor Knott's face. During the campaign they say that he painted his face red and came to Lexington and left the impression that he was a drinking man, and would be easy on the boys. They are now beginning to realize the deception.

Whither Are We Drifting?

OVER one hundred murders have been committed in Kentucky so far this year—twenty-seven last month, and thirty the month before. Thirteen on the criminal docket in Breathitt county, and eight at civilized Harrodsburg. About all those committed in Mercer County were committed since Senator Voorhees and Congressman Blackburn defended Phil Thompson, and told the people that it was right to commit murder. Just think of it! Senators and Congressmen descending from their high positions in life, and going around the country setting such an example to the smaller fry under strikers known as lawyers, and young men of the country, imbuing into their bosoms the spirit that it is right to commit murder!

People are now halting in their innocent pursuits of peace and happiness and are inquiring "Is there no remedy for the growing evils of murder, and turning the murderers loose?" And the answer comes back "There is none in the law as it now stands." But there can be a remedy manufactured, by the Legislature in the creation of County and District Attorneys whose sole duty it shall be to LEGALLY defend the same as the Commonwealth Prosecutors LEGALLY prosecute. Private counsel in the defense of the criminals is altogether too corrupt for the emergencies of this day, and ought to be legislated against. This thing of resorting to every technicality, suborning witnesses and manufacturing public sentiment on the streets by lawyers for the defense is an outrage to justice and a disgust to law-abiding humanity. In fact, the time is close at hand, when, if this thing is not stopped, the vilest criminals in the land who can rake and scrape together the pitiful sum of five hundred dollars, can, and will bull-doze his way through any court in Kentucky, and turn himself loose on the innocent and trembling public only to select another subject for gore on the least provocation.

The question will be asked "how is this new plan of administering justice to be brought about?" Our answer is, through the newspapers alone. We need more newspapers and better editors. We need such editors as will throw the reins of editorial fancy down on the dash-board and lay the lash to the old slow horse of Progress. He needs to be lashed forward. The laws handed down to us by our heathen forefathers who were governed in rural simplicity and honesty—whereby one's oath was a sufficient guarantee of veracity and honesty, is too old and stale a process for this day of unmitigated rascality, when a murderer's counsel or friends can hire a witness to swear anything for a paltry sum.

Ye lovers of peace—ye lovers of life, home, and happiness, think of whither we are drifting, and think of our remedy for the evils of murderer's acquittal, and put your shoulders to the wheel and have the suggested law enacted. It is practicable, it is reasonable, and it is just. A county attorney or a prosecuting attorney is nothing but a guide to the commonwealth, to see that justice—only justice is administered. A like officer for the defense of criminals is what is wanted.

Millersburg (War) Department.

Harding says it was hard on his watch; not an him.

Miss Georgiana Miller has married a Mr. Kelley. No cards.

Hinkston was on a high-lonesome a few days since. Drift came down in great abundance.

Joe Carter has "jumped" the town. Whether for good or not is a question future chronicles can answer.

Jack Allen was in town Sunday. The department failed to notice whether or not he wore gingerbread shoes.

Br'er Wolf was too previous. Little Rube Boulden has a perfect right to tell his readers that he saw a reporter's tail.

Three of the "kids" cut a great many unnecessary capers in front of the male college Saturday. They attracted the attention of the boys but didn't make a mash.

One of the divines preached Sunday evening mainly upon the subject of riotously eating pie and audibly champing the same with the teeth, at ten or eleven o'clock at night.

The city council is wrestling with the problem of how to suppress the bicycle club. The problem should be solved and Jake Hughes and "tother" monkeys be made to go.

A race between Charlie Clarke's setter dog and Col. Bob. Stoner's greyhound, has been postponed until Thanksgiving day. The fleetest running rabbit in Nicholas, has been obtained for the occasion.

Frank Champ and Col. Stoner spent last week in Bath county hunting birds. They scared up a large flock of disappointments, and killed a great deal of time, which spoiled on their hands before they got home.

The insurance agency of John W. Boulden, established here in '73, with three companies, now has seven. John informs us that he has written 306 policies and 222 renewals covering sums ranging from $2,000 to $8,000. See his card in this issue.

At the Barber-Cooper nuptials the church was darkened then dimly lighted by numerous waxen tapers. Low, sweet music from an organ and a harp, continued through the entire ceremony. Rev. Fitch officiated. The affair is considered about the toniest ever occurred here.

Nathan Bowles, one of our most successful young farmers and traders, will leave this week for Arrow Rock, Mo., to make his future home. His brother Bob is already there and doing well. Tom, the youngest brother, has a fine large confectionery at Hannibal, and is doing splendidly.

"Remember Charles, that your father was a poet, Charles, your father was a POET!"

James Hutsell is in Missouri, prospecting for a farm. He writes back that he is much pleased with the land around Marshall.

Alf. Stitt, in writing a postal from Salt Creek, Texas, to the News editor for a copy of the paper of Oct. 26th, says: "We have just finished branding 248 calves for our fall round-up of '83. Everything lovely; the wire-cutters have quit work; some have bit the dust; our fence O. K.; grass never better; cattle all fat; the mast so heavy that hogs will need no corn to fatten them; crops better than for years; corn 20 cents per bushel; oats 25; wheat 75; cotton 8 cents per lb; bacon; beef 6 cents; potatoes $8 per bushel."

This closes the brief (but delightful) career of the War department. The truly good will regret it and fill all the earth with lamentations dire; but the ruffians, panders, street-walkers, dead-beats, thieves, night-drinkers, gossip-old-lantern-jawed-cock-eyed-positively-puritanical-hypocrites, pretty, painted, indiscreet maidens, fast young men, and ungodly, saint-assuming bald-heads, will be filled with happiness. They will smile, wink, build bon-fires, kill a great big corn fattened heifer, knock the heads out whiskey tanks and give rise to the remark "hell broke loose in Millersburg." But be this as it may, the department "had a destined work to do and lived to do it." It knew that the "paths of glory lead but to the grave," yet it fought for glory—it was not afraid to die. In fact it hankered after your uncle Death. It dared him to knock a chip off an epaulet or step over a line drawn by a toe in the dust; but did uncle Death touch that chip or cross that line? It is to be hoped that the new officer will be as uncompromising in the discharge of duty.

"B'RR B'AR."

POSTED—Notice is hereby given that I posted my farm, adjoining Millersburg, according to all the forms of law, and all persons are forbidden to hunt or fish or trespass in any way on said farm, I will enforce the law against all offenders—WHITE and BLACK.

Oct. 17th 1883. ALEX. MCCLINTOCK.

TOM BUFORD, who murdered Judge Elliot has written a letter to a prominent lawyer in Frankfort, in which he says: "My health is delicate, my board bill is unpaid, and I have not enough of clothes to cover my person." It is quite a pity that Thomas should be let run down at the heel in that paperly style. Cannot there be an act passed at the next session of the Legislature granting him a pension.

MR. TALMAGE evidently believes in the value of disinfectants, for he says: "Christian men, I charge you to go to the caucuses, first having saturated your handkerchief with cologne, or some other disinfectant. Go down and take possession of the caucus, though when you come home you have to hang your coat on the line for ventilation." It would be interesting to see Mr. Talmage with a bucket of cologne and his coronet player leading his Christian dudes to capture a caucus at Five Points, or some other delectable center of New York political contagion.

Turkeys! Turkeys!!

I DESIRE to inform the turkey-raising public that I want an unlimited number of fat, plump, corn-fed bluegrass turkeys such as I ship every season to the New York and Boston markets. For such, I will pay the highest market price, delivered on foot. oct30-tf W. W. GILL, Paris, Ky.

TURKEYS WANTED.

Having an old and well-established turkey trade in Boston and other Eastern cities, I still desire to supply their insatiable demands with the Kentucky-raised birds. I do not care whether they are corn, bluegrass or crop-fed, just so they are firm fat birds. I will do the same by the trade this year that I have always done—pay the highest market price in cash. I will receive and slaughter at Paris, Richmond and Flemingsburg. nov2-tf O. A. GILMAN.
